Dear Mr. Saurav,

I am writing to sincerely apologize for the delay in submitting the monthly sales report that was due this Monday. Unfortunately, I encountered an unexpected technical issue with my reporting software, which prevented me from completing the analysis on time.

I take full responsibility for not informing you sooner and for not having a backup plan in place. I realize the importance of timely submissions and how crucial these reports are for planning and decision-making.

Once again, I apologize for the inconvenience caused. Thank you for your patience, understanding, and continued support.

The vendor has already followed up twice and is awaiting our approval to finalize delivery schedules for the upcoming month. Without timely approval, the procurement department may face challenges in planning and maintaining inventory, which could impact our operational workflow.

Your timely action on this matter would be greatly appreciated, as it will help us maintain smooth coordination with the vendor and ensure uninterrupted operations.

Thank you for your attention and cooperation.

Best regards,
